(Hudson, Ohio, USA / January 11, 2012) – Radcom, Inc., with the receipt of its third award for outstanding sales growth in 2011, is proof that successful small businesses do prevail even during a sluggish economy. Radcom, an instructional design and technical communication consulting firm based in Hudson, Ohio, was recognized by the Weatherhead 100 as one of the 100 fastest growing companies in Northeast Ohio based on revenues from 2006 to 2010. The 2011 winners were honored at the Weatherhead 100 Awards on December 6 at Executive Caterers of Landerhaven. Previously, Radcom was named a Weatherhead 100 Outstanding Growth Company in 2009 and 2004.

Other accolades awarded to Radcom in 2011 were the Business Growth Award by the Cascade Capital Corporation for outstanding sales growth from 2006 to 2010 and the NEO Success Award by Inside Business magazine.

“We’re proud to win the Weatherhead 100 again. It’s always an honor. But winning three growth awards in one year is really a testament to the quality and talent of our professional staff,” said Angie Dianetti, Radcom vice-president.

Being named a Weatherhead 100 company is a unique recognition that distinguishes a company as among Northeast Ohio's best. Weatherhead 100 companies selected in 2011 must have had net sales of at least $100,000 in 2006 and more than $1 million in 2010. Additionally, winning companies must have employed a minimum of 16 full-time employees in 2010 and be located in one of the 16 eligible Northeast Ohio counties. The honor is bestowed by the Council of Smaller Enterprises (COSE) and the Case Weatherhead School of Management.
